
All seven results are computed every cycle.

The mux picks one; the rest are discarded. That is what makes a lane single-cycle, and it is why area grows with LANES but latency does not.

op = 111 is undefined:

y must be 0, never x.